Lehman Trikes: ISO Certified

Lehman Trikes announced today that they have received ISO 9001:2008 certification. ISO 9001:2008 certification is a series of standards that are accepted internationally and provide a consistent foundation for product and service quality.

“While we have always strived to deliver an exceptional product, we chose to pursue this certification to provide testament to the quality and reliability of our products and our dedication to customer satisfaction,” said Ken Hines, President and CEO of Lehman Trikes.

The ISO 9001:2008 certification lets customers know that they can trust the company has met the necessary internal processes for efficiency, consistency, and dedicated quality service.

“This world-class certification marks another significant milestone for Lehman Trikes as a leader in three-wheel motorcycle conversions,” stated Ken.

Lehman Trikes is a USA-based company specializing in the conversion of two-wheel motorcycles into three-wheel motorcycle trikes. For the past 25 years, Lehman Trikes has been the “Leader of the Three World”, forging relationships with OEMs and growing a dealer network worldwide. They offer a three-year, unlimited mileage warranty and customers are automatically welcomed into the only trike owner’s group, “Lehman Pride”.
